

湘南会議へようこそ

The First Dagstuhl-style Seminars in Asia

NII Shonan Meetings

A 10-Minute Introduction

Zhenjiang Hu (NII)

Academic Program Committee Chair

NII Shonan Meetings

Engineering Adaptive Software Systems

EASSy

- John Mylopoulos, University of Trento, Italy
- Hausi Müller, University of Victoria, Canada
- Yijun Yu, Open University, UK
- Shinichi Honiden, NII, Japan

Where have all the workshops gone?

Communication of the ACM

January, 2011, editor's letter

Editor-in-Chief
Moshe Y. Vardi

DOI:10.1145/1866738.1866740

Moshe Y. Vardi

Where Have All the Workshops Gone?

My initiation into the computing-research

CO
an gr

my he g
to bi mal
the
the
shoc
a we
to b mat
T
cont
of re
worl
intel
A w
mat
rmi

Dastghul's contributions to computing research over the past 20 years are incalculable.

...

It is no wonder that the National Institute of Informatics in Japan recently created a similar center in Shonan, near Tokyo.

...

Why don't we have a North American "Dagstuhl"?

was built as a manor house of a German prince in 1760. It was converted into the International Conference and Research Center for Computer Science in 1989, now called Leibniz Center for In-

long seminar
e called semi-st 1990. Since
d close to 800
30,000 particek-long semipectives work-retreat stays of like. If you re-dagstuhl semi-
y offers a good ling wine celacilitates both interactions. In he place to ex-workshops as rings. Its con-research over alculable. It is nal Institute of
ently created a near Tokyo.
question that
r years. Call it

湘南会議
SHONAN MEETING

Shonan Village Center

Mt. Fuji

Sea

Green

Isolated!

Lodge training facility in lush greenery

NII Shonan Meetings: Overview

10

Invited
Small
Inter
For r

11

ings/year

active researchers

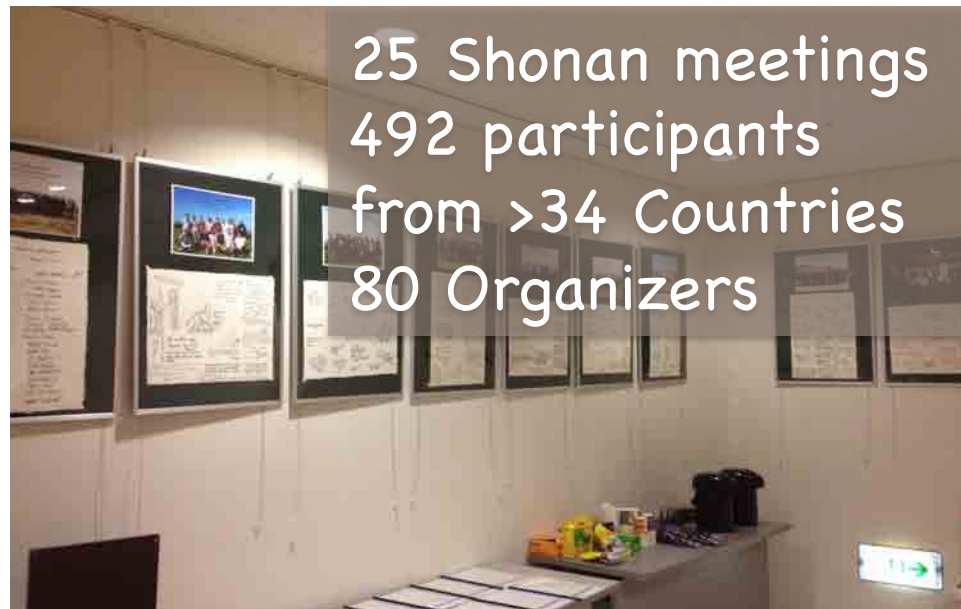

people

days

munication

NII Shonan Meetings: Current Status

Local Arrangements

- Research Wing

- All the rooms on the 2nd floor can be used 24 hours a day.
- Tea/Coffee is available all day. Cookies are provided twice a day, one in the morning and one in the afternoon
- Some beer/wine are available in the exhibition room on the first floor

- Breakfast/Lunch/Dinner

- All are served in Cafeteria OAK (name plates on the table)

- Excursion and Banquet

- Kamakura

- Sports

- Swimming pool
- Recommendation: climbing the Ogusuyama (大楠山)

- Group Photo
 - Will be taken during the meeting
- Handwritten Messages
 - Short messages with your signature
- Questionnaire
 - Your comments will help to improve our work
- Welcome your blog messages ...

